LETTERS FROM GEN. LEE.—Gen. Early in his speech at the meeting of the Confederate officers and soldiers read the following extracts from letters from Gen. Lee:—

LEXINGTON, November 22, 1865.
I am very glad to hear of your health and safety, but regret your absence from the country, though I fully understand your feelings on the subject. I think the South requires the presence of all her sons now more than at any period of her history, and I determined at the outset of her difficulties to share the fate of my people. I desire, if not prevented, to write a history of the campaign in Virginia. All my records, books, orders, &c., were destroyed in the conflagration and retreat from Richmond. Only such of my reports as were printed are preserved. Your reports of your operations in '64 and '65 are among those destroyed. Cannot you repeat them and send me copies of such letters, orders, &c., of mine (including the last letter to which you refer), and particularly give me your recollection of our effective strength at the principal battles.
My only object is to transmit, if possible, the truth to posterity and to do justice to our brave soldiers.

From the second letter, dated 15th March, 1866, and received while in Mexico, General Early read the following:—

"It will be difficult to get the world to understand the odds against which we fought, and the destruction and loss of all of the returns of the army embarras me very much. I read your letter from Havana to the New York Times with much interest, and was pleased with the temper in which it was written. I have since received the paper containing it published in the city of Mexico, and also your letter in reference to Mr. Davis. I understand and appreciate the motive which prompted both letters, and think they will be of service in the way you intended. I have been much pained to see the attempts made to cast odium upon Mr. Davis, but do not think they will be successful with the reflecting or informed portion of the country. The accusations against myself I have not thought proper to notice or even to correct misrepresentations of my words and acts. We shall have to be patient and suffer for a while at least, and all controversies I think will only serve to prolong angry and bitter feelings, and postpone the time when reason and charity may resume their sway. At present the public mind is not prepared to receive the truth.

I hope in time peace will be restored to the country, and that the South may enjoy some measure of prosperity. I fear, however, that much suffering is still in store for her, and that her people must be prepared to exercise fortitude and forbearance."

TRADE ON ALL OCCASIONS.—An Iowa paper says: "At the funeral of a young man in Des Moines recently, the services for the dead took place at the dwelling of the parents. After a most pathetic address, which brought tears from all the young ladies present, the minister inquired if any of the dear friends of the deceased wished to say anything on this solemn occasion. A stranger here stepped forward, and after expressing sympathy with the friends of the deceased, remarked that the ways of Providence were inscrutable, and in this connection, he wished to mention that he was the agent for a first rate article of hair vigil for the State of Iowa. The corpse had used it for years with great advantage, and he confidently recommended it, especially to the minister and undertaker present, as he had received them both painfully bald. Shake the bottle, gentlemen, and rub the matter well into the hair. At this stage of the proceedings a slight disturbance occurred, and the hair vigil was no longer in demand."

This is almost equal to the story which we told in the Journal, some time since, of the Hon. Fayette McMillen. It will be remembered that when a criminal about to be hanged declined making any dying speech, the Hon.
Fayette "improved the occasion" by making a little speech in favor of his claims to Congressional honors. The Governor ought to employ this Iowa fellow to assist him in elec-

WALKING STONES.—They have walking stones in Australia, and they have traveling stones in Nevada. Here is a description.

They are almost perfectly round, the majority of them as large as a walnut, and of an iron-stone nature. When distributed about the floor, table, or any other level surface, within two or three feet of each other, they immediately lie down in a bunch like a lot of eggs in a nest.
A single stone removed to a distance of three or four feet, upon being released at once started off with wonderful and somewhat comical celerity to join its fellows. Taken away four or five feet it remained motionless.

Scattered over this barren region are little basins from a few feet to a rod in diameter, and it is in the bottom of these the rolling stones are found. The cause of these stones rolling together is doubtless to be found in the material of which they are composed, which appears to be loadstone or magnetite iron.

A CURIOUS CASE.—A post mortem examination was held on the body of Mrs. Elmina Steele, whose death by suicide was reported yesterday, which elicited the fact that the brain was sufficiently softened from excessive indulgence from liquor to have caused death. Although, from the circumstances, it seems the direct cause has the power of imagination. She went to Dr. Morse's drug store for a dose of poison, but the clerk, having been notified that she had threatened to take her life, gave her two powders of tartar emetic, labelling it in large letters "Poison." It seemed the woman took the emetic, and in the retching that followed, death ensued.—N. Y. Herald.

INVENTION AND folly sometimes travel in company. An Albany undertaker has invented a coffin which "holds down" and exposes the body at full length, making it appear as if reclining on a sofa. It is designed to save people of weak nerves the shocking sight of a coffin that looks like a coffin.

THE STEWART PARLOR BASE-BURN-ING STOVE.

The increasing demand for a first class and reliable base-burning and self feeding stove which has been pressing upon all self dealers so much of late, has induced the inventor and manufacturers of the celebrated STEWART STOVES to turn their attention to the direct trade, and the result is the production of a stove which for beauty of design, economy in the use of fuel, capacity for heating, and completeness in all its operations, is unsurpassed by any stove now in the market.

Amount the advantages claimed are:
Economy in the use of Fuel.—This stove being designed to overcome the great objection which has been raised against most of the self feeders now in use, namely, the inordinate consumption of fuel. The Stewart Parlor Base-Burner being provided with a brick lined fire pot and complete gas burning arrangements, generates a steady and powerful heat, which by the use of the draft damper is under perfect control, so that the heat may be radiated to suit the temperature of the room and a moderate or strong degree of heat thrown out as the will or desire of the operator may desire, thereby securing the use of at least one third of the amount of fuel consumed in stoves which cannot be thus controlled.

Cheerfulness.—This stove is provided with mica doors arranged just above the fire box, and reaching almost the entire body of the stove. These doors are nicely hinged so that they can be opened at any time and the mica cleaned with the utmost facility, and when the fire is burning a steady and brilliant illumination is produced, thereby securing a cheerfulness and comfort equal to that of an open grate or hearth fire.

Cleanliness.—Being provided with a Patent Reversible Grate, which is easily shaken or dumped, and a large ash drawer in the base of the stove, no difficulty whatever is experienced from the use of cinders or ashes into the room while shaking or dumping the grate.

Size of Coal.—While in other base burners it has been found absolutely necessary to use only the smallest size of coal, this stove has been so constructed with its improved grate, and large size of coal, ordinarily burned in parlor stoves, may be used with the best results. This is an important advantage, as the larger sized coal is purer and produces a greater heat, and prevents the waste arising from so much fine fuel falling through the grate.

This stove is offered to the public with the full belief that it contains better heating and economizing features than any other base burner now in use. Persons desiring a new stove are requested to give it a thorough examination, and satisfy themselves that it is the best. I refer to the following persons who have the Stewart Parlor Base Burner in use: D. Thomas Locke, Mr. Burke & Herbert, City Post Office and others of our city—all of whom unite in recommending it.

Keep also on hand a full assortment of WOOD AND COAL STOVES. The celebrated STEWART COOKING STOVE, with latest improvements, of the different sizes, furnished with all kinds of Repairing, Roofing and Plumbing work executed in the best manner and with dispatch at the lowest cash prices.

CLEAR AND HARMLESS AS WATER.

NATTANS' CRYSTAL DISCOVERY FOR

A Perfectly Clear Preparation, in One Bottle, as Easily Applied as Water, for Restoring to Gray Hair its Original Color and Youthful Appearance, to Eradicate and Prevent Dan-dru, to Promote the Growth of the Hair, and Stop its Falling.

It is perfectly harmless and entirely free from any poisonous substance, and will therefore take the place of all the dirty and unpleasant preparations now in use. It is warranted to contain no Lead, Nitrate of Silver or Sulphur, consequently it is perfectly free from all the objections so justly urged against the muddy and sulphurous compounds. In everything in which the articles now in use are objectionable Crystal Discovery is perfect.

Clear and clean as water, it does not soil the clothes or scalp, is agreeably perfumed, and makes one of the best dressings for the hair in use. It restores the color of the hair more perfectly and uniformly than any other preparation, and always does so in from three to ten days.
Virtually feeding the roots of the hair with all the nourishing qualities necessary to its growth and healthy condition, it restores the decayed, and induces a new growth of the hair more positively than anything else. The application of this wonderful discovery also produces a pleasant and cooling effect on the scalp, and gives harsh, wiry and brash hair a glossy and clever appearance.

Special attention is called to the fact that it will positively give entire satisfaction in every case. Our aim is not to induce you to buy a single bottle, but to have you use it constantly.

For sale by druggists and fancy dealers generally. Liberal discounts to dealers.

To whom all orders must be addressed.
The following is inserted as a specimen of the many recommendations sent us: Washington, August 15, 1870.

Mr. Arthur Nattans—Dear Sir: Some time since I bought a bottle of Crystal Discovery for my own recommendation, and after a thorough trial am kind to say it has accomplished even more than you claimed. It is as clear and easy of application as water, resembling none of the dirty preparations in use. My hair, which was quite gray, has assumed a color after a few applications, and I cheerfully recommend its use to all needing anything of the kind, as also the cheapest article ever offered. Very respectfully, JAMES HALL, 20th and E sts.
